

No You Didn't, No You Don't

The Courteeners

So, just because I use salty phrases
And I go through stages
Where I neglect endeavour
Does this mean that I'm not clever?
No, I don't think so

Just because my newspaper pages
Haven't been the Times in ages
Does that mean that
I don't know as much as you?

Jealousy will destroy us
Or so she used to say
You'd kill for half the things we do
Including yesterday

But I suppose you know
Because you went to school with me
You'd sit in the garage and you'd see
All the things that we do, don't you?

No you didn't, and no you don't
No you didn't, and no you don't
No you don't
No you don't

Do you remember us lot doing keys
At the back of the garage at 243
That was us and no one else
And lend Luka a jumper off the shelf

Do you remember us lot doing keys
At the back of the garage where no one sees
That was us, no one else
Another jagër off the shelf

So I suppose you know,
Because you went to school with me
You'd sit in the garage and you'd see
All the things that we do, don't you?

No you didn't, and no you don't
No you didn't, and no you don't
No you don't
No you don't

There'll always be people looking down their noses
I don't care, coming up smelling of roses

So I suppose you know
Because you went to school with me
You'd sit in the garage and you'd see
All the things that we do, don't you?

No you didn't, and no you don't
No you didn't, and no you don't
No you don't

No you don't

So I suppose you know
Because you went to school with me
You'd sit in the garage and you'd see
All the things that we do, don't you?

No you didn't, and no you don't
No you didn't, and no you don't
No you don't
No you don't
