

It's Just That Song

The Cramps

As I sit here alone in the tavern
I can hear her voice soft and low
Then someone dropped a coin in the jukebox
And played an old familiar song

The tears came to my eyes
As I suddenly realized
It was a song that reminded me of her

And as I sit and cry
Someone came to my side
And asked me if I'd lost my best friend.
I said "No".

It's just that song. No, it's just that song.
It's just...I ain't heard it for so long.

It brings back old memories.
Once you leave me alone please?
No, no, it's just that song.
