

I Don't Need

The Cranberries

The world is consuming me and I don't feel so happy here today
I'm not and I don't feel and I used to be a baby in my head
So where is the one you love? does she hold you happy next to her?

And your head hangs lightly and everyone's slightly drunk tonight

They're drunk tonight again, la-la-la etc.

I don't need to see you, no, no, no etc.

I don't need to see you, no, no, no etc.

My head it is hanging now and my eyes are on the ground, the ground, the ground

And everyone's so patronizing I don't see when the real things comes around

So where is your mother now, did she hold you happy next to her
And your head hangs lightly and everyone's slightly drunk tonight

They're drunk tonight again, la-la-la etc.

I don't need to see you, no, no, no etc.

I don't need to see you, no, no, no etc.

And maybe no work done today, no work done today. no. no. no.

No work done today. no. no. no. no, work done today.
