

Still Can't...

The Cranberries

Still can't recognize the way I feel Nothing of what you said to me was real
And you still can't find the strength to apologize
You just go on laughing and telling everyone lies

'Cos you wanted it all, wanted it all, you wanted it all
No, and there's nothin' at all, there's nothin' at all, there's nothin' at all

Maybe if you could see beyond your nose
Nothing of what had happened surely shows
But your ego excelled and then your attitude
And you went on laughing and shoutin'
It's all too shrewd

'Cos you wanted it all, wanted it all, you wanted it all
No, and there's nothin' at all, there's nothin' at all, there's nothin' at all