

Dusk 'Til Dawn

The Creepshow

Fallen down in empty hopes
Where dreams are dead as stone
Spend the last of your existence all alone

Another sleepless night
Time to swallow all that pride
Or just sit here wasting all your time

You're on a road to self destruction
Maybe one day you will see
You've become your own worst enemy

You can carry on from dusk 'til dawn
But things still remain the same
You go on and on and keep singin' that same old song
But you still won't change a thing
You won't change a thing

An empty corner means this devil holds his own
It's always easy to give up on the unknown
And it's deceiving when
You're up and down and out again
You'll never learn just what it's all about

So try again my sweetheart
Maybe this time you won't lose
Know that it's forever when you choose

You can carry on from dusk 'til dawn
But things still remain the same
You go on and on and keep singin' that same old song
But you still won't change a thing
You won't change a thing

You're on a road to self destruction
Maybe one day you will see
You've become your own worst enemy

You can carry on from dusk 'til dawn
But things still remain the same
You go on and on and keep singin' that same old song
But you still won't change a thing
You're your own worst enemy
