

Life After Death

The Creepshow

Just when you thought we'd slowly taken our last breath.
We rise from the ashes, back again
Life after death
I'll take some time to fully heal these battle scars
That we have earned taking back what's rightfully ours.

We don't wanna talk about it anymore,
So let us do what we were meant to do once more...

Life after death
We're moving on with no regrets
Get started on new memories
Go on and leave the past behind.

Life after death
We're moving on with no regrets
Get started on new memories
Go on and leave the past behind.

Just when you thought we were bruised and broken, left for dead
You fueled the fire with every single word you said.
It won't take long for them to see through your disguise.
While we move on and surely leave your past behind.

We don't wanna talk about it anymore,
So let us do what we were meant to do once more...

Life after death
We're moving on with no regrets
Get started on new memories
Go on and leave the past behind.

Life after death
We're moving on with no regrets
Get started on new memories
Go on and leave the past behind.

Life after death
We're moving on with no regrets
Get started on new memories
Go on and leave the past behind.

Life after death
We're moving on with no regrets
Get started on new memories
Go on and leave the past behind.
