

In Bitterness and Sorrow

The Crown

See my light it has gone away
My fire is dead but here I stay
Time is passing by though nothing heals
It's breath does tear my life
Endless pain through my loveless heart
I feel my soul grow deadly cold
Still I breathe and still I stay
Still I live day after day

Sorrow surrounds me day and night
So tired of life but scared to die
Visions passing through my head
Words you once in silence said
Beyond the point of no return
I can't go back the bridge is burned
Still I breathe and still I stay
Still I live day after day

The shadows are breathing
Can't you hear?
The darkness feeding off your fear
Endless pain through my loveless heart
But still I breathe...
The shadows are bleeding
Can't you see?
My darkness feeding off these years
Still I breathe and still I stay
Still I die day after day

Lights of darkness lead the way
Towards the breathing, awaiting end
Always there to erase it all
Always there to take us home

We are all just born to die
But never living we just survive
All will die no eternal life
But still you try...
To hide the truth in comfort lies
The christian dream has made you blind
My eyes can see, I don't believe
But still you pray day after day

My youth has passed away
Time is passing by though nothing heals
It's breath does tear my life

Will it ever pass away?
Life is passing by and there's nothing left for me but
Eternal Death

Why do I still go on?, Living this lie
I die because I do not, Die!
Broken beyond repair
Alone across the years

Will it ever pass away?

Life is passing by and there's nothing left for me but
Eternal Death!
