

When

The Dave Clark Five

When the world looks dark all around you
All you need is love, I know
All your doubts and fears will disappear
And turn into song

When the night light shines from your window
You'll remember all I've said
And your heart will feel
That sudden beat setting you a glow

Please come back to my arms
I need all your love tonight

When the clouds have gone
You will see me
Can you turn your love my way
I want you to love me
Every minute of the day

Please come back to my arms
I need all your love tonight

When the clouds have gone
You will see me
Can you turn your love my way
I want you to love me
Every minute of the day
Won't you say you will
