

Big Sleep

The Daysleepers

who knows where the love goes? disappeared in the atmosphere so she's always searching for an exit to disappear hey christine
you are the moment
you are the ambience
you cut the ropes free
so you could dream
hey christine
you chose a road
you burned out slow now silence fills this room and flowers pass before they bloom did the sun set in your heart and if so, then just let it go i would help you creature only wanted to reach her
