

Think Too Hard

The dB's

You think too hard, you blow yourself in two
It can happen to you
It can happen to you
You wish too much, your wishes will come true
I wouldn't wish that on you

In the short haul, love conquers all
In the long run, you gotta have your fun
In between the two, there stand me and you

You want it all, you want it all right now
And you'll get it somehow
'Cause you swear you know how
You wish too much, your wishes will come true
I wouldn't wish that on you

When the day comes, you'll look around
On the good times shattered on the ground
Having no clue, then what do you do

You think about the past
And how it didn't last
You think of what's to come
And the battles to be won
You're thinking all the time
And you'll probably lose your mind
In the same way
In the same way
In the same way
As you did before

You think too hard...
You'll blow yourself in two...
You wish too much...
And your wishes will come true

You think too hard, you blow yourself in two
It can happen to you
It can happen to you
You wish too much, your wishes will come true
I wouldn't wish that on you
I wouldn't wish that on you

You think too hard
You think too hard
Too hard
Too hard
