

Look Into The Sun

The Delgados

Sooner or later, sooner or later it comes
It's easier to face the light than look into the sun
I know that you're crazy, that's easy to see
Don't lay your darkness over me

You were a friend of mine, you hit me from behind
Or was it slight of hand
I just might strike you back, the best defense is attack
And I just might rip your heart out

Sooner or later, sooner or later it comes
It's easier to face the light than look into the sun
I know that you're crazy, that's easy to see
Don't lay your darkness over me

You always talk too fast
Like a snake, you crawl across the grass
But you're really nothin' at all (at all)
Some people deserve to win, while others fall

Sooner or later, sooner or later it comes
It's easier to face the light than look into the sun
I know that you're crazy, that's easy to see
Don't lay your darkness over me
