Big Decision

The Devlins

I've tried, to knock on your door Spending my hole life on the outside looking in Wait to begin, I've been here before but I have not received And there's something I'll still believe

He loves you now 'cos you're thin But you'll be spending your life suckin' your stomach in

And when you find it's not enough
I still be there to pick you up
'Cos we'd no long to live this life
So take your time
This is a big decision

These nights, I've seen it before You can change, if it's what you want 'Cos you been caught and no one else Can help you out, I'm sure

And when you find it's not enough I still be there to pick you up 'Cos we'd no long to live this life So take your time
This is a big decision

He loves you now 'cos you're thin But you'll be spending your life suckin' your stomach in

And when you find it's not enough I still be there to pick you up 'Cos we'd no long to live this life So take your time

And from some dreams, you don't wake up You'll find is too late, too long now And we'd no long to live this life So take your time
