

Someday

The Devlins

I'm everything that you made me
So now I'm nothing at all
Did you think you could break me?
Break me after the fall
Looking over your shoulder
Everything that I see
With eyes a little bit older
So now you've got to believe

Someday, you'll find your place in time
One day you'll realise

I'm travelling under the city
And time is moving away
Things ain't looking so pretty
The monkey's asking for change
Yeah, everyone wants to be someone
I'll see what he can arrange

Someday, you'll find your place in time
One day you'll realize,
It's coming around again

Someday you'll find, your place in time
One day you'll realize

Whatever it was, you can't take it back you've got to be strong, forget and move on

One day you'll realise
It's coming around again
Coming around again
It's coming around again
Coming around again
It's coming around again
Coming around again
