The Dillinger Escape Plan

Fallen angel, how you've changed
Poison runs through your veins
You were never a saint but now you're a sin
Spoiled and rotten from within

Who clipped your wings so useless?
Cut your child then yourself?
Chewed off your own?
Good thinking

You were coming apart
And I thought I could help you
Through the fever

Not the first one
Not the last one
I'm not sorry for you
Find out if your transsexual

I remember a time
When everything that you knew
I thought I already knew in my mind
And I thought you knew the same

And I thought you knew the same
And I thought you knew the same
Well I thought you knew the same

I know truth will set you free
I know truth will set you free
Cracked and crazy, baby
I know truth will set you free
