

Utopia

The Dirty Youth

Ignore the books that try to control you
You said that you could never believe
They stripped society of its freedom
A concept that you're forced to conceive

Reject the signs they force before us
The architects of a selfish race
Suppress the truth until it bores us
That puts everybody in their place

Let's start a war
Start a revolution
Start a revolution
Start a revolution

Take flight like the whitest dove
Embrace the trust and I'll show you love
Embrace the beauty that the world can bring
And just let go of everything
Take flight like the whitest dove
Embrace the trust and I'll show you love
Embrace the beauty that the world can bring
And just let go of everything

They sell you substance with no face
A self-portrait that's lined with disgrace
Control the power of the outcome
That puts everybody in their place

Let's start a war
Start a revolution
Start a revolution
Start a revolution

Take flight like the whitest dove
Embrace the trust and I'll show you love
Embrace the beauty that the world can bring
And just let go of everything

Look up to the skies above
Give me your trust and I'll show you love
Look up to the skies above
Give me your trust and I'll show you love

Take flight like the whitest dove
Embrace the trust and I'll show you love
Embrace the beauty that the world can bring
And just let go of everything
Take flight like the whitest dove
Embrace the trust and I'll show you love
Embrace the beauty that the world can bring
And just let go of everything
