

A Good Day to Die

The Dogma

Look for a dark ride
Hey, welcome to my life
Gaze into my soul
Set me free to show

Frozen dreams in a lake of tears
Childhood eyes searching for some light

When all hopes are fading, your screams can't be heard no more
Good day to die

No don't cry in vain, save your tears for your pain
Sympathy for me will not save you from your sins

Broken dreams in a world of grey
Neon lights in the coldest night

When all hopes are fading, your screams can't be heard no more
Good day to die
Even pain is a just a memory, feeling dead inside
Good day to die

Running ruby red...A sleep without a dream...Sister don't hate me

When all hopes are fading, your screams can't be heard no more
Good day to die
Even pain is a just a memory, feeling dead inside
Good day to die
