

Lost Forevermore

The Dogma

You're living for today
You're staring at the sky
Everything is fine
You're kissed by the moonlight
"How this can be so wrong?"
"Our souls were made to love"
"They'll never have to know"
Not a pure girl anymore

Every night as I close my eye I see my heaven
As it lasts forever, as I'm falling
Everyday can you see me praying
Lost in my sorrow
I deny tomorrow, feel like falling down
Lost forevermore

The streets you used to walk
It seems they want to talk
The nailed one on the cross
He's staring at your soul
A Shot few miles away
A mother screams in vain
There's nothing more to say
Just falling on his grave

Every night as I close my eye I see my heaven
As it lasts forever, as I'm falling
Everyday can you see me praying
Lost in my sorrow
I deny tomorrow, feel like falling down
Lost forevermore
