

Waiting For The Rain

The Dogma

Please tell me why my life is becoming too hard to try
The Fear and pain now grow together
So deep inside my soul is wounded by the scars of time
Dogma Trying for so long to stay alive

Cause so many times I suffered so many times I wasted
Waiting All my life trying to disappear
Cause for too long I'm dying, for too long I shed my tears
For
Run when you feel lost an you are falling down
When the pain is growing an you're waiting for the rain
Rain For the rain

Alone in my room I looked in the mirror and I saw my doom
Living all the pain inside me
So my dear friend nothing's gonna change ma end when il'll be t he end
Proudly I'll win and I'll raise my hand

Cause so many times I suffered so many times I wasted
All my life trying to disappear
Cause for too long I'm dying, for too long I shed my tears

Run when you feel lost and are falling down
When the pain is growing an you're waiting for the rain
For the rain
