The Dreadnoughts

Awake tonight in the silence of the moon
Awake tonight, and I know she's coming soon
She's coming soon
The ghost of fair Paulina

I followed you 'till my shoes were rotting thin
I followed you for what you could have been
You could have been
My only Seraphima
My fair Athena
Soren K. and his Regina

Now I have seen the deepest blue
And nothing else will do
Just you

Paulina
Paulina
Paulina
I've seen better days
Paulina
Paulina
Paulina
Since you gone away

I watched the days reflected in your eyes
The summer passed and leaves began to die
began to die, why oh why Paulina

Heart in my throat, my little fingers crossed
I delayed, and that is how I lost
oh how I lost
My only Seraphima
Mea Regina
Ulysses and Athena

Now I have seen the deepest blue
And nothing else will do
Just you

Paulina
Paulina
Paulina
I've seen better days
Paulina

Paulina
Since you gone away

Awake tonight in the silence of the moon
Awake tonight, and I know she's coming soon
She's coming soon
The ghost of fair Paulina
Mea Regina
Ulysses and Athena

Now I have seen the deepest blue

And nothing else will do
Just you
