

Sealed With A Fist

The Duskfall

I can not bear this faking anymore
So dawn full of yourselves
Ignorance Has dragged us down once again
My clenched fist is all I'll ever need

No I won't stand the beating anymore
This will all be useless
When we fall to the floor
My soul fights to break itself free
Just to make you see

No more it's all washed out
Truth knocks you down
And the spine will crack
No more
It's all washed out
And It's all gone
Truth knocks you down
And the spine will crack
Sealed with a fist

You say it's living
But I won't back down
I'll choose an unknown path on my own
Held your truth free
Of filth and the lied
Your calls have been silenced
Completely revealed
Naked as a newborn child
The demon gnaws your innards
The embrace of life

No more it's all washed out
Truth knocks you down
And the spine will crack
No more
It's all washed out
And It's all gone
Truth knocks you down
And the spine will crack
Sealed with a fist
