

Shoot It In

The Duskfall

A change was made today,
Somehow the reason got lost along the crooked way.
This so called peaceful state, where only wars are made,
Remain still and enjoy the ride, right into your goddamn graves

Seeking so desperatly for nothing at all, tasting every drop of rain.
Without daring to look, you're turning every stone.
Generation cold and dead...

Move on in and let them forcefeed the weak, the divine gets the m on their knees.
You preach about doomsday, you differ from me.
Shoot it in, this is what they seek, the divine gets them on th eir knees.
You give them hope, I just set them free - Your truth is not fo r me.

This so called peaceful state, where only wars are made.
Stand still, obey them now, remain without a single sound...

Fighting so violently for a useless cause, beating down the so called insane.
Without daring to look, you're turning every stone.
Generation, we should have known...
