

Tell Me Why

The Early November

(Tell me why you left, tell me where you went.
Tell me why am I worth the lines.
Tell me all you want, keep me holding on.
Tell me lies)

Tell me why...

Tell me why you left, tell me where you went.
Tell me why am I worth the lines.
Tell me all you want, keep me holding on.
Tell me lies, tell me why.

(Just like wind, you're gone.)

You won't stay, afraid to settle like ashes.
You say you need a silhouette, and I'm a shadow standing in your way
I bet you find a millionaire and one of them will need you
And your silver hair when you've gone

Tell me why you left, tell me where you went.
Tell me why am I worth the lines.
Tell me all you want, keep me holding on.
Tell me lies, tell me why.

(Just like wind, you're gone.
Leaving me breathless and alone.)

Just like the wind, you're gone.
Leaving me breathless and alone.
Just like the wind, you're gone.
Leaving me breathless and alone.

Tell me why you left, tell me where you went.
Tell me why am I worth the lines.
Tell me all you want, keep me holding on.
Tell me lies, tell me why.
