

The American Adventure

The Electric Soft Parade

Somehow you came out fighting
Somehow it turned out good
This must be the happy ending
I believed would come soon

The American Adventure
Brought you closer to the end

I wouldn't like to fly today
Look at the clouds
A year ago you ran away
Look at you now

Do you see, do you see, do you see
It's all because of you now?
Do you see, do you see, do you see
It's all because of you yeah?

Never was I one to step out of line
Don't put it down to a need to belong
I'll give you seven reasons why you need to get a grip

And always be the one you talk about
But never understand why it hurts so bad
I'll give you seven reasons why you need to get a grip

But it's too late for that
To have hope
To be saved
You won't

Never was I one to step out of line
Don't put it down to a need to belong
I'll give you seven reasons why you need to get a grip

And always be the one you talk about
But never understand why it hurts so bad
I'll give you seven reasons why you need to get a grip
But it's too late for that
