Last Goodbye

The Enemy

Ever feel so down you can't go on
Ever feel so down you can't go on
I know I'm going
Everybody's telling me that I'm wrong

Ever feel so down you can't go on
Ever feel so down you can't go on
I know it's showing
The cracks are growing, it's not long

Well if you want me there, come and get me
I'm leaving this world behind
If you hate me then try and take me
Your words won't even break my stride

As I wave my last goodbye
I won't feel shame, I won't ask why
There's no place to hold my bet
There's no heaven for those who pray

Ever feel so down you can't go on
Ever feel so down you can't go on
I know I'm going
Everybodys telling me that I'm wrong

Ever feel so down you can't go on
Ever feel so down you can't go on
I know it's showing
The cracks are growing, and it's not long

Well if you want me there, come and get me
I'm leaving this world behind
If you hate me then try and take me
Your words won't even break my stride

As I wave my last goodbye
I won't feel shame, I won't ask why
There's no place to hold me bet
There's no heaven for those who break

As I leave this world behind
Every woman, man, and child
I won't hear you call my name
I'm in a place where souls can stay

If you want me, then come and get me
I'm leaving this world behind
If you hate me, then try and take me
Your words won't even break my stride

As I wave my last goodbye
I won't feel shame, I won't ask why
There's no place to hold my bet
There's no heaven for those who pray
