Music's own sons, fresh breath lungs
They talk about the finest and our names are on their tongue
So, you lames gotta go, Quasimodo's
We want cake, spit with a culinary flow
I've got the taste of fame, now I want more
Cause I'm hungry, not the type when you hit the grocery store
We so close, yo our fingers on the edge
Can't let the grip slip, rather hang till I'm dead
Cause this is what I want, can not fail
Teachers ask me where I'm going, I have no idea
Expire from you ears, that's the only thing I fear
They say music can provide, that's just so, so rare
But that is what I am, so boy here I stand
And I'll be damned if I let you love another man
Dad told me I'm one in a million, grain of sand
I gotta leave the beach now for the promised land
I'm moving ya

Moving
At the speed of sound
Moving
At the speed of sound
Moving
At the speed of sound
Moving
At the speed of sound, speed of sound

How far, I say to the limit
You get what you put in, and that's without the interests
I do it from the heart, and I thank you for the interest
Cause time spent on me is time well invested
By far the most attractive so far
Like a magnet, I got your brain stuck to my bars
Au revoir, so long
See you when I get home, but till then I am gone
Speed of sound, that's the reason y'all can't see me
Upside down, that's the reason y'all can't read me
No expiration date, I intend to last here
Call us the trendsetters, y'all are so last year
Some people think they know it all, they must have their facts wrong
Cause I won't let it break me I'll forever have a backbone
And on that note, I strap on Press play and I'm gone, you know I'm
