

A Very Pretty Song For A Very Special Young Lady Part

The Ergs!

So won't you come along with me tonight?
There's this feeling in my brain that I just can't shake and
I know with you I'll be alright so come on
I couldn't help falling
And your smile, it didn't help matters
And I love you more than I could say
And probably more than you'd ever wanna hear anyway
But I'm sure you get that an awful lot
So won't you come along with me tonight
'cause I'm sick of losing sleep over losing you and
I know with you I'll be alright so come on
I couldn't help falling
And your smile, it didn't help matters
And I love you more than I could say
And probably more than you'd ever wanna hear anyway
But I'm sure you get that an awful lot
And I miss you more than you could know
And no matter how I try I just can't let it go
I'm hoping you feel the same way, probably not
