

Never Let Go

The Essence

The sorrow comes
Oh you never could know
And all you wished
That you'd never let go
And all those things that you wanted to say
It doesn't matter now anyway
And all you say is
You feel so alone
You'll never break my heart of stone
The sorrow comes
Wished you'd never let go
The only one that you wanted to hold
You wanted to hold
Don't you understand
Don't you understand
How
I could leave you like that
When I look at you now
The sorrow comes
When I'm far far away
You wished you'd never thrown me away
And all these words
That just come from your mouth
You say you'll die
Without me now
And all you say is
You feel so alone
The sorrow comes
Now that you're on your own
The only one that you wanted to hold
Is gone and away
And ever so cold
Ever so cold
Don't you understand
Don't you understand
How
I could leave you like that
When I look at you now
