The Layover

The Evidence

Not a worry in the world when I started Still young and restless Hurry up and wait Tell my people nowadays a missed call is just as good as a message Weve come along way from brick phones to flip phones I remember the day my homie Freck-one had the first chip phone We was callin long distance runnin up corporations tabs Like god damn the world gone mad And little did I know and did he know we was not gonna see the future together now here no more (rest in peace) 93 was not til infinity, 93 was more like 20 years of legacy In Venice Beach, Santa Monica, Freck-One ring bells, Jade-one they know the name well still They goin huntin Theres 8 million stories in the city They forgot the 4 million in the country Im going where the people want me

Worldwide

Uh
This is the layover
airport hanger 6 hours with a hangover
I bang over the best when I fly we goin ride
Got my peoples on my side
Its to the sky

Worldwide

Lets call the whole thing off Nah I call your bluff If you callin it luck Im up to no good, Im up to something Im plottin my peoples still come first I never pass the I never asked for nothing I couldnt get back even during set backs I called everyday your doughs on the way When it comes Ima put something on top make sure you get that (with interest) Dont forget about the rain the suns up now But when its wet Im back in my lane Dont forget about the pain I aint been the same since April 04 This shit is insane not a game this a limited run Dont second guess an operation from an armchair son of Loudest in the room aint the smartest in the building Quitting while Im ahead aint the same as quitting is it?