

Barricades

The Ex

We'll meet again at the barricades
When their common sense fails we're full of hate
We'll meet again at the barricades
When they won't listen we won't hesitate
There's nowhere to hide
Teargas in our eyes
And dogs that really bite
They're never on our side
We'll meet again at the barricades
When arrogance remains we're full of hate
We'll meet again at the barricades
When they ask for trouble we won't hesitate
Police spies everywhere
We handle them with care
Our bricks are their despair
Zipping through the air
We'll meet again at the barricades
When injustice rules we're full of hate
We'll meet again at the barricades
When they want violence we won't hesitate
It's still the same refrain
Unjustices remain
Authorities to blame
Not used to use their brain