Crumble And Break

The eyes of a traitor

Speak up If you think that is worth fighting for Is it all about the love lust Or is it all about the way we trust Wish it all away Or will you fucking stay

Piece by piece We'll all fall apart We never thought that wed have this doubt Everything used to be So clear but now we all live in fear And if I die before I wake Will you just crumble and break I'll take you with me In my heart because I know We just can't be apart

Speak up If you think that is worth fighting for Is it all about the love lust Or is it all about the way we trust One day you'l realize That love just don't live in the past Wish it all away Or will you fucking stay
