

The Mixer

The Fall

The mixer is close to me
He turns his head and smiles at me.
And I'm am glad
He earns my salary.

The mixer
In Espanol restaurants
The people and staff they clap
The mixer sweats
In comic type letters the voices are saying
Clap, clap
The mixer sweats
The mixer sweats

The mixer of Jamaican origin
Born, raised in the US
observes the Victorian [press/prayer]
Clap, clap, clap
Clap, clap

The DLVDS is over-easy on the compress
And the mixer sweats.

'It possessed the sort of bright sound microphone with audio pickup pattern.
It can produce broad responses, hi-fidelity quality, no feedback and no howling etc. We can express good sound of your voice, an excellent melody orchestra, a self-contained filter control, explosive breath sounds, controlled explosive breath sounds wind noises, in different locations.....'
