

Washed Away

The Feelers

Laughing at all the mistakes I made,
Long into the night
past caring or being afraid
Lost your breath when you turn away
All your fading regrets
In the words you say

All your secret moments
All your regretted dreams
Are all washed away in a moment

Losing your jealous streak
Throwing away the key
Sliding down your family tree
Why did you walk out on me

All your secret moments
All your regretted dreams
Are all washed away in a moment

Distorted signals
just a phone call away
So why don't you just pick up and call me now?