

Again Today

The Feelies

My mind and my heart
It felt like miles apart
I turned around and looked away
Dark clouds a-rumbling
Great wall was crumbling
I turned my back and walked away
And we are in too far to find the way today

Too many thoughts collide
Look for a place to hide
That made it hard for me to stay
Red light a-shining down
Blocked off that part of town
Everybody went away
And we are gone too far to find the way today

And we are in too far to find the way again today
And we are gone too far to find the way today
