Here Before

The Feelies

Everything looks familiar Like I've been here before Another one in a million Another knock on the door

Slowing down to look clearly See the world flying by Didn't say it was easy Never said you didn't try

Take a look around Turn another way It's not like before Not like this today It's okay It's alright Another day Another night