

Anchor

The Feeling

I fear mirrors and lights
It's been a long day
I'm scared of looking behind
'Cause we've come such a long way
Holding on to a dream
And you're gonna make it
Know if you hold on to tight
That you'll probably break it

I'm not your anchor anymore!
I'm not your anchor anymore!
You can go sail another shore
Now you broke lose
I'm not your anchor anymore!
I'm not your anchor anymore!
You can go sail another shore
Now you broke lose

You don't rain that you pour
Down on my heart, babe
I'm sure that I've said it before
But you made it unlock, babe
When I say what I say
Know you're forgiven
'Cause, honey, you don't have a clue
What you do, you're just living

I'm not your anchor anymore!
I'm not your anchor anymore!
You can go sail another shore
Now you broke lose
I'm not your anchor anymore!
I'm not your anchor anymore!
You can go sail another shore
Now you broke lose

Oh, you don't know your own strength
You'll leave in the end
Like you always do
Like you always do
'Cause, you, you don't know your own strength
Don't really want strength
So I'm leaving you blue

I'm not your anchor anymore!
I'm not your anchor anymore!
You can go sail another shore
Now you broke lose
I'm not your anchor anymore!
I'm not your anchor anymore!
You can go sail another shore
Now you broke lose

I'm not your anchor anymore!
