

Love Is The Only Answer

The Flower Kings

I was there in the beginning, I will be the last to leave
And I'm moving through the ages with the comfort of `God's speed`
There is no such thing as perfect, so I might apologize
That I didn't see the darkness in your eyes

I'm a man with many colours, I'm a man of many names
I'm a rebel and a teacher. I am no one just the same
If I give away the answers, you have questions put on hold
But I didn't see the weakness in your soul...
Love is the only answer - Love's what you feel
In the end you can invest in love but never ask for payback

I've been traveling every roadside. I've been sailing every sea
I've been circling like an orbit around that cosmic Christmas tree
You think science is a fact, but it's just a childish game
Cause they never saw the greatness of the game.
In the end you can invest in love but never ask for payback

So the craziness begin, on a cold rail straight to hell
There are 10 more rounds to go, we're just waiting for the bell
Not much time for smalltalk now, besides the hammer & the nail
Bringing out the monsters from the shadows - 't never fails
„Where did all the goodness go? - I feel alone“
„Suddenly they're just crawling out like from under the stone“

Love is the only answer - Love's what you feel
In the end you can invest in love, but never ask for payback - no Jack

Look when you stand on the brink of that dark hole
It's like the world just collapsed in this space
If you look for a place for redemption - You're not likely to find it in this place

I've always looked for good in everyone. I've seen so many places under the sun
Now - bail me out or let me down. It's just you and me and time
I'm a king who lost his crown. I bid you bread and wine!

Where did all the goodness - where did all Love go?
Where is all the kindness - can love find a home?
First you build me up - then break me down.
I don't want your money - I just need your time
World is getting older now! World is getting colder now!
Egos getting bigger - It's a playground for the wicked!
No one is really listening - No room for the reasoning!
The cash mashine just opened up it's jaws & now it's giggling

Look when you stand on the brink of that dark hole
It's like the world just collapsed in this space
If you look for a place for redemption - You're not likely to find it in this place

I was here in the beginning, I will be the last to leave.
You've been told so many times before that truth will set us free.
But still you fabricate your dreams - upon greed and lust and fame.
Bring shame upon your name - it's so damn hard to elevate.
If I speak to you with clarity and you read me back alright.

So that words may go like shafts of light - Into the deepest night.
There's no way out of here!
