The Flower Kings

Angel paint my world in gold, justify the world, behold Stand by me and make me smile, make us wonder for a while Angel paint my world in green, open up a world unseen Lay me down on wonder weeds, so love is all we really need?

The world is falling apart, but I'm still falling in Love Sisters they've have fallen from grace, now shaken, confused and dazed

Angel paint my world in red, bring roses for my flower bed you may spin the stars around my heart, but simplify my piece o

Angel paint my world with light, ride my fear, ride thru the ni ght
Don't make me scream. just make me sing, now make some sense of everything

The world is falling apart, but I'm still falling in love
The clouds may fall from the sky, kings may not stay all time h igh
The world is cracking the seams, no one knows what it means the last few couple of spins, the soaring beauty within.....

Angel paint my night with stars, speak to me of who we are Talk to me of days to come.....'til the end, until I'm don
