

World Of Adventures

The Flower Kings

I'm back in the world of adventures in grand new adventures, expect to fly I'm deep into sonical changes radical strangeness and I don't know why

We run the fields in the summernight
in silent kisses in black and white and we'll make footprints on a higher ground
We're children of the Woodstock nation
lost in peace and comtemplation

I'm the magic carpet rider the strawberry glider across the sky We're getting high on adventures say goodbye to the pressure prepare to fly

in silent kisses in black and white
and we'll make footprints on a higher ground
lost in peace and contemplation
