

Fight

The Forces of Evil

Fight!

Fight!

Fight!

How come nobody plays ska anymore?

I guess they all forgot what we were fightin' for

They're grown up now and they want to be respected

And be a part of the business we rejected

I liked things how they used to be

And now I'm doing what I can to save the scene!

You gotta fight for your right to skank

You gotta fight for your right to skank

We can't do it on our own, so pick up the telephone

And tell your friends they gotta fight to skank!

Fight!

Whatever happened to the bands that make you dance?

And laugh so hard you nearly wet your pants?

They want to be emotional and that's so boring

Take out the fun and we're left snoring

I wouldn't blame it on TV or radio

It's this growing music wave that has got to go!

You gotta fight for your right to skank

You gotta fight for your right to skank

We can't do it on our own, so pick up the telephone

And tell your friends they gotta fight to skank!

Fight!
