

Fake

The Frames

You're telling me I should forget you but why?
You're talking like I never knew you but that's a lie

And you're playing out your games again and you're never on my side
You're telling me I should forget you

C'mon that guy is a fake what do you love him for?
and it was my mistake just kickin' in his door and if it's just the game then what are we crying for?

You're telling me I will regret you but so
And you're talking like I should expect to But you'll never know

And he's left you in the rain again
And you're always on my mind
You're telling me I should forget you

C'mon the guy is a fake what do you love him for?
And it was my mistake just kicking in his door
And if it's just a game what are we crying for?
