

Seven Day Mile

The Frames

1. Your will changes everyday it's a road you've come upon I can't help you if you want to Down here nothing gets a chance It's a threat that's real enough

We can burn this bridge or stay here

*: It's a breeze everlasting like time Making so sure that I can return just to see it from your side again
2. Always never seems to work
It's a word you never learned I don't really see a way clear

*: It's a sea ever churning in tides
In the sureness of time
And our words will repeat now forever again

R: Well this might take a while to figure out
So don't you rush it
And hold your head up high right through the doubt Cause its just a matter of time

*: You've been running so fast
It's the seven day mile
Has you torn in-between here and running away
3. I don't have a choice in this It's a road I've come upon You can join us if you want to

Always never seems to work
it's a word we never learned time will be the judge of all here

R: This might take a while to figure out now
So don't you rush it and hold you're head up high right through the doubt now
cause its just a matter of time

it's the seven day mile
has you torn in-between here and running away

*: Its line you've been wanting it's your time
it's the seven day mile
has you torn in-between here and never again never again
