Seven Day Mile

The Frames

1. Your will changes everyday it's a road you've come upon
 I can't help you if you want to

Down here nothing gets a chance It's a threat that's real enough We can burn this bridge or stay here

- *: It's a breeze everlasting like time
  Making so sure that I can return just to see it from your side again
- 2. Always never seems to work It's a word you never learned I don't really see a way clear
- *: It's a sea ever churning in tides
  In the sureness of time
  And our words will repeat now forever again
- R: Well this might take a while to figure out So don't you rush it And hold your head up high right through the doubt Cause its just a matter of time
- *: You've been running so fast
  It's the seven day mile
  Has you torn in-between here and running away
- 3. I don't have a choice in this It's a road I've come upon You can join us if you want to

Always never seems to work it's a word we never learned time will be the judge of all here

- R: This might take a while to figure out now So don't you rush it and hold you're head up high right through the doubt now cause its just a matter of time
- *: You've been running so fast it's the seven day mile has you torn in-between here and running away
- *: Its line you've been wanting it's your time it's the seven day mile has you torn in-between here and never again never again
