

Song For Someone

The Frames

1. Dryin' up in conversation still my head was halfway round the world and workin' through the sleepin' hours driven by the promise of a quick return

And I wonder if she'll be the very same and I wonder if she's gonna break the waves again

2. Tryin' just to focus on the good I'm tired of divin' for the pearls
And every dawn is another morning less
I have to wait to wake beside that girl

And I hope she's gonna be the very same and I wonder if she's gonna break the waves

- R: And if we're all for someone and if we're born for someone when will she come that someone and put things in their place

3. Comin' back to see you girl you know there's nothing surer in this world and every dawn is another morning less
I have to wait to wake beside that girl

and I hope she's gonna be the very same and I wonder if we both survive the rain

- R: And if we're all for someone and if we're meant for someone
and put things in their place

- R: And if we're meant for someone to wait each day for someone when will they come that someone
and put things in their place
