

Heartbeat

The Fray

We're on an open bed truck on the highway
Rain is coming down and we're on the run
Think I can feel the breath in your body
We gotta keep on running til' we see the sun

Oh you gotta fire and it's burning in the rain
Thought that it went out, but it's burning just the same
And you don't look back, not for anything
'Cause love someone, love them all the same
If you love someone, love them all the same

Oh I'm feeling your heartbeat
And oh, you're coming around, coming around, coming around
If you can love somebody, love them all the same
You gotta love somebody, love them all the same
I'm singing oh.. I'm feeling your heartbeat

I'm trying to put it all back together
I've got a story and I'm trying to tell it right
I've got the kerosene and the desire
I'm trying to start a flame in the heart of the night

Oh you gotta fire and it's burning in the rain

Thought that it went out, but it's burning just the same
And you don't look back, not for anything
'Cause you love someone, you love them all the same
If you love someone, you love them all the same

Oh, I'm feeling your heartbeat
And oh, you're coming around, coming around, coming around
If you can love somebody, love them all the same
You gotta love somebody, love them all the same
I'm singing, oh.. I'm feeling your heartbeat

I know the memories rushing into mind
I want to kiss your scars tonight
I'm laying here
'Cause you've gotta try, you've gotta let me in, let me in

Oh I'm feeling your heartbeat
And oh, you're coming around, coming around, coming around
You love somebody, you gotta, you gotta love somebody
You gotta, I'm singing.. oh, I'm feeling your heartbeat,
Oh, your heartbeat, yeah
Oh, your heartbeat, yeah
Oh, your heartbeat
