

You're Only Human

The Frustrators

Standing there staring into the light for hours
After a while your sweetness sours
I know you're bad for me
Left over misery
I could've had you yesterday
I should throw it all away

You used to be so warm but now you're so cold
And they tell me you're too old
I know you're bad for me
I could've had you yesterday
I should throw it all away
