Red in the Morning

The Gaslight Anthem

Let it ride, let it ride, let it roll off your mind Don't say a single world, get back inside Let me drive, let me drive, disappear in the night Like I was a ghost in your dreams

And it was all completely wrong, Virginia You were much too much for me I was a boy on the lawn, with his eyes to the sky You were Garbo, smoke, and deceit

And it was Saturday, September, and fire
It was a backdrop set in your smile
It was all I could want in the sway of the song
I was haunted for so many years

Let it ride, let it ride, let it roll off your mind Don't say a single world, get back inside
Let me drive, let me drive, disappear in the night
Like I was a ghost in your dreams

Say goodbye, say goodbye, give a kiss and a sigh Never, never, never bring me back to your mind Let it slide, slide, roll off your mind Like I was a movie you'd seen

And it was all just a crime, Virginia Let your fire be mercy to me I was a boy in your arms, safe in your arms And you swore like a promise to me

That I would never, never, never leave your heart No I would never, never, never leave your heart But where are you now, I can still feel you now And I hear all your songs in the breeze

Let it ride, let it ride, let it roll off your mind Don't say a single world, get back inside
Let me drive, let me drive, disappear in the night
Like I was a ghost in your dreams

Say goodbye, say goodbye, give a kiss and a sigh Never, never, never bring me back to your mind Let me slide, slide, roll off your mind Like I was a movie you'd seen

Let it ride
