

Golden Grounds

The Gathering

As the sand spreads wide open and the glow of the sun pearls the skin
All hope is craving fluids and the yearning to where we've been

Golden grounds
so absorbing
When the heat of the sun
boils the skin
We have to stand the test of nature to return to where we've been

Hold on my saviour
Keep my heart in holy dimensions Drag me on your back for one more day
One more day

One more day

You give You learn
You live
You learn
I guess what ever you may find It's all right to eat a piece of your mind
