The Gathering

Look at the sky, stars they fall
Look at the sky, stars they fall
1
Peace between worlds, the universal wall
Advanced technologies left on earth
Forward step to a union birth
Circles in the ground, ufo's in the sky
No one ever knows the reason why
Upon horizons rising ships
Inherit what's rightfully theirs
Try to search in space, you lost your track
From this timeless desert, no way back
Feel this as a dream, flying empty masses
Diving skies of blessings, horizon expands
Primitive knowledge erased, your mind is consuming
Intelligence is an illusion, illusions are created
