

In Memory Of

The Generators

I saw your name in the obituaries
Seem you passed just like me
We now live in photographs
And travel with a winter breeze

Were the heartbreak on a valentines day
Were all the words we forgot to say
Were the reminders to live your life better
Were the tears in the ink
On that goodbye letter

I leave you with roses
I leave you with the times
I take with me all the pains
From leaving you all behind

In memory of
In memory of
In memory of
You're the ones I'm thinking of

I took with me your devoted love
I left you with all my sentimental junk
Man you gotta make some light out of this
Because living in the dark is no was to live

I leave you with roses
I leave you with the times
I take with me all the pains
From leaving you all behind

In memory of
In memory of
In memory of
You're the ones I'm thinking of
