

Right Beside You

The Generators

How it began, there I am
In the evening twilight
A refugee down by the sea
Moving along on and on
By a lonesome highway
And one of these days
I'm gonna set me free, I believe!

Weathered and torn
I stood in the storm
There I's remain, the sorrow I brought
And I never thought that I'd come in from the rain
You come to terms
You live and you learn
From all the bad breaks
It's you and you
In the big bad world facing up to the heart aches

But there I am
Right beside you
No one else
Just you and me
In the moment
In the flow of traffic
It's all getting a bit easier to see
